California Polio Cases Reach 4079

Polio cases in California reached a total of 4,079 as of January 2, 1954, according to figures compiled by the United States Public Health Service, and released yesterday by the state office of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

According to Health Service figures, this is an increase of 93 cases over 1953 and an increase of 851 cases over 1951.

National figures indicate that by the end of 1953, the March of Dimes will be in debt in excess of six million dollars through providing patient care for victims of current and previous polio epidemics. The 1954 March of Dimes is mortgaged for this amount before a cent is set aside for the new polio prevention program or for contingencies that lie ahead next summer.

The dominant theme of the 1954 March of Dimes is polio prevention, a vast project involving principally the purchase of greatly increased quantities of gamma globulin for use during the year and wide scale testing of a trial polio vaccine.
